SHELTON
STUDENTS PART OF NEW CITY COUNCIL
ADVISORY PANEL

Shelton State students have joined students from the University of Alabama and Stillman College to work with the Tuscaloosa City Council to foster better relations between the institutions and the city, to identify and address salient student issues with the city and to sponsor events involving city officials and students.

Kendrick King is the chair of the Shelton student group.

Other students serving on the committee from Shelton are Bryan Pinto, Catherine Russell, and Roman Duran.

On April 8, the students will join together as they participate in The National Campaign Against Hunger and Homelessness. From 9 a.m. - 12 noon the students will work to clean up Stillman Park, Monish Park, and River Road.

Participants will raise money by asking others in the community to sponsor their volunteer hours at the clean-up sites. The money raised on April 8 will be donated to the Community Soup Bowl.

If you would like to help sponsor the Shelton students, contact Lucy Kubiszyn, 2221.

FACES AND PLACES

* SYBLE COATS, chair of the college's music department, and ALAN BLACKSHEAR, director of the Jazz Ensemble, have been named officers for the 1995-96 Music Showcase Executive Committee. Blackshear was elected secretary and Coats will serve as treasurer for the showcase.

* Hats off to math instructor CAMILLE COCHRANE who has been busy working the MSIP computer lab on the C.A. Fredd Campus. Cochrane has put the Math 091 and ITS courses on the computer. At the present time, students enrolled in the Math 091 and ITS 104 courses on the C.A. Fredd Campus can take quizzes, practice tests, tests, and make-up tests on the computer. According to Ruby Miller, department chair, Cochrane's new ideas have been an asset to the mathematics/statistics department at Shelton State.

* Cosmetology instructor PEGGY SEXTON and her husband, Johnnie, are serving as program chairmen for the 44th National Square Dance Convention that will be held at the Birmingham-Jefferson Civic Center in Birmingham in June. The convention is the largest in the United States for people who pay their own way, and it is international in scope. Approximately 20,000 square dancers, round dancers, line dancer, cloggers and country/western dancers will attend.

The conference is scheduled to generate approximately $15 million in revenue for the City of Birmingham and the state. As part of the conference, tours have been scheduled in Tuscaloosa at the Bryant Museum and at the Gulf States headquarters.

ABOUT OUR STUDENTS

SHELTON MUSIC DEPARTMENT ENSEMBLES NAMED WINNERS IN ALABAMA COLLEGE SYSTEM MUSIC SHOWCASE

All three of the Shelton musical ensembles placed in every area of competition they entered this year during the recent Alabama College System Music Showcase.

Although this was the first year for the group to compete in the showcase, the Shelton Brass Ensemble, under the direction of Stewart Hampton, placed first in the Instrumental Ensemble category. The Shelton State Jazz Ensemble, directed by Alan Blackshear, placed second in the Instrumental Ensemble category. This was the first competitive performance for the Jazz Ensemble which was organized in 1993.

The Shelton Singers placed second in the Concert Choir category. The Singers, under the direction of Glinda Blackshear, have been ranked first or second each year during Showcase competition.

SHELTON GOLF TEAM CONTINUES RECORD SEASON

The Shelton State golf team continues its climb in national rankings by winning three tournaments during March.

Under Coach Jim Collins, the team won a tournament held March 10 at Wallace at Hanceville, and on March 17, the Shelton golfers came from behind to win a tournament at Marion Institute. The final win for the month came on March 20 and 21 during Gadsden State's Invitational Tournament. During this tournament, the Shelton golfers beat Wallace College at Dothan, a team currently ranked third in the nation.

The latest national poll published by the NJCAA Golf Coaches Association ranks Shelton State eighth in the nation. However, Collins expects the team to move up in the polls after the last three tournament wins.

Two freshmen golfers from Manchester, England, Stewart Andrew and James Curtis, are setting the pace for the team. Andrew is now ranked seventh in the nation individually and won the individual medalist at the Wallace State Invitational Tournament. Fellow teammate James Curtis won the Individual Medalist at the Marion Institute Tournament and finished second at the Gadsden State Tournament.

The Shelton State music department was well represented at the recent National Association of Teachers of Singing State

Auditions which were held at Alabama State University in Montgomery recently.

Fourteen Shelton students were among the 250 singers from across the state. Once again, Shelton State was the only two-year college to participate.

Mitchell McDow, a baritone who studies with Glinda Blackshear, placed third in Freshman Men's Category and Steve Hines, a baritone who studies with Jeri Lamar Kantack, placed second in the Advanced Adult Men's Category. Other Shelton participants were Rosanna Pate, Julie Langham, Sandra Taylor, Carlene Williams, Kelvin Hyche, Brian Harvey, Chris Tucker, Stephen Hughes, Michael Duckworth, Todd Mathews, and Kevin Dockery.

Devin Tibbs, a former Shelton student who also taught adjunct voice at the college, won the State NATS Artist Awards. He will represent Alabama in the regional auditions in Orlando, Florida in May. He is presently completing a master of music degree in vocal performance at the University of Montevallo.

SHELTON SCHOLAR BOWL TEAM PLACES FOURTH

Shelton's Scholar Bowl team competed in the state tournament held recently at Troy State University and finished fourth of the 16 teams participating.

Members of the Scholar Bowl team are Sonya Baker, Chris Davis, Daryl Foster, Ronald Fulgham, Patte Headrick, Jason Mauldin, Marsha McDonald, and Kenna Graham, captain. Diane Layton is the Scholar Bowl sponsor.

CONGRATULATIONS ANTHONY!

Anthony Prewitt was named to the Region 22 All-Region team for basketball. Anthony will participate in the East-West All-Star game in Phenix City on April 8.
